

Certificate I in Information, Digital Media & Technology

Course Overview

The ICT10115 course is an online course when you study with LearnMe. You can study from home, your workplace, your local library or take your internet connected laptop down to the park.

In this Online Course you will be able to view videos, pictures and text as we walk you through the course step by step. Then when you are ready you will complete your assessments online. You will be able to answer the short answer questions, complete online project and show you how you can record your screen so you can demonstrate how great you are at using your computer. It couldn't be easier.

You're never alone when you study ICT10115 online with LearnMe. Apart from our easy to follow Learning Content from our friendly instructors, you can contact our support team through online chat, email and phone. You will also be allocated a dedicated assessor who will be there to assist you with any questions you might have.

Outcomes

This Certificate prepares you for the Certificate II in Information, Digital Media & Technology and gives the starting knowledge opportunity to propel you forward.

This qualification gives you job opportunities within many different areas. It provides you with not only a certificate, but knowledge and skills that the industry wants.

It the perfect start for any industry, as most industries now have Information Technology intergrated into the job, this certificate is a great place to begin in understanding and comprehending the world of IT.

Course Details

Location

Online

Duration

Self-paced

Generally takes:
6 months Part-Time
3 months Full-Time

Cost

Full Fee $520

hello@learnme.edu.au

RTO #31449

1300 859 094

